Office of Procurement and Contracts – Information Circular 25-07

Subject: Availability of Commodity Trending Reports

The Office of Procurement and Contracts, through the NASPO cooperative, has availability to a market research report, known as Procurement IQ. This report analyzes key market products in an effort to provide expert opinion regarding inflation and supply chain shortages.

OPC is making these reports (starting in June of 2025) available to State of Kansas agencies to assist with their budgeting and bid cost projections. As with any market analysis, this report should only be a part of the overall planning process and Kansas results may vary from nationwide trends.

These reports can be found on the OPC website, under “Procurement Resources”, “OPC Procurement IQ.”

We hope that this resource will be of value to the agencies.
