Jack Kastle

Former Kirwin, Cedar and Woodston area resident, John Joseph 'Jack' Kastle was born on September 17, 1919 near Kirwin, Kans., and died Tuesday, July 21, 2015 at the age of 95 years and 10 months at the Golden Living Center in Wellington, Kans., where he had resided for three months. He was a farmer and stockman. Jack was the third of five children and the oldest son born to Fred and Mary Alice Wickwar Kastle.

He is survived by two daughters, Shirley M. Theurer and husband Richard of rural Wellington and Arlene S. Duston and husband Jim of Glendale, Ariz.; six grandchildren: Mike Duston and wife Stephanie of Phoenix, Ariz.; Scott Duston and wife Mandy of Goodyear, Ariz.; Matt Theurer and wife Lea; Luke Theurer and wife Amy; Clint Theurer and fiancée Kiersten Howell all of rural South Haven and Dixie Theurer Russell and husband Stephen of rural Paxico, Kans.; and 10 great grandchildren: Rylce and Reese Duston of Phoenix, Ariz.; Cannon Duston of Goodyear, Ariz.; Colby and Ethan Theurer, Jace and Kelly Theurer, and John Henry Theurer, all of South Haven, Kans.; Corbin and Kirwin Russell of Paxico, Kans.; three nieces and four nephews.

Jack was preceded in death by his parents, Fred and Mary Kastle; brothers and their wives, Bob and Amy Kastle, Dick and Marcella Kastle; sisters, Forest and husband

Harvey Sibrel; Alice May, who died at 11 months in 1919; two nephews and one niece.

Jack grew up south of Kirwin and attended school at the Bogart schoolhouse and graduated valedictorian of the eighth grade class; he was the only one in his class. Jack never attended school after the eighth grade as he was helping farm and earning a little money by helping the neighboring farmers. Jack rented his first farm ground (160 acres) at the age of 14 and continued to farm until he planted his last wheat crop at age 86 with his brothers.

During his teen years he milked cows in Denver and as newlyweds during World War II, Jack and Nadine worked in Wichita. Jack and Nadine were married in 1941 and moved to the farm where Nadine grew up south of Claudell where they farmed, had a cow-calf operation, farrow to finish hog operation. Jack and Nadine loved to dance and with the Bohemian Hall just three miles south of their house they attended every dance.

Jack was a community leader for Solomon Valley 4-H Club, a member of the school board for Claudell and after consolidation Kirwin, and member of The Odd Fellows.

Although Jack loved his two daughters he missed having sons. Three of his nephews lived and worked with him during their teen years and he ended up turning the farm over to Richard (Dickie) Kastle when he retired.

For a brief time, he was married to Nadine Schoeni Marple. They enjoyed friends and travel.

Jack loved to play cards with neighbors and friends and later at the Woodston Coffee Shop. He was an avid reader and spent many hours reading and re-reading his favorite author, Zane Grey.

Jack and his soulmate, Artalee Newbrey, traveled to Camp Verde, Ariz. every winter to live for nearly 10 years. They visited his daughter, Arlene, his sister, Forest, and tramped the grounds that Zane Grey wrote about. Those were some of his most memorable years.

In 2007 he moved to South Haven to be near his daughter. He really wanted to be near his grandsons and watch them farm. He enjoyed the town of South Haven, its people, and checking out the progress on his grandsons' crops. His greatest joy was watching his great-grandchildren grow up.

He was able to live independently until April when he entered a residential care facility, Golden Living Center. He enjoyed his visitors until just a few days before his passing. His was a life well lived over nine and one-half decades. Jack will be missed by many family members and friends. As he joins those who have gone before him, we can only imagine the stories that are told.
